PROTECTIVE ORDER REGARDING DISCOVERY

This matter comes before this Court upon the United States' Motion for a Protective Order to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of discovery material and information contained therein to persons not a party to, or otherwise involved in, this case. Pursuant to the authority granted under Rule 16(d)(1) of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure and the general supervisory authority of this Court, it is hereby ORDERED:

1. This Order pertains to all materials produced as part of discovery in this case by either the government or the defendant and the information contained therein (collectively the "discovery material").

2. The discovery material may not be disseminated or provided in any way to persons not a party to, or involved in, this case. Persons involved in the case are persons employed by defense counsel or the government who are necessary to assist counsel in preparation for trial, and persons the defense or the government deems necessary to further legitimate investigation and preparation of this case.

3. This Order places no restrictions on the dissemination of the discovery material to the defendant, counsel of record for the defendant, or federal government employees.

4. Any person, including the defendant, counsel of record for the defendant, and federal government employees, who receives any discovery material subject to this Order may not use the discovery material in any way except to assist in the investigation or preparation of this case. Further, any person, including the defendant, counsel of record for the defendant, and federal government employees, who receives any discovery material subject to this Order may not reproduce or disseminate the discovery material to any other person or entity, except as provided in this Order.

5. Any person, other than the defendant, counsel of record for the defendant, and federal government employees, who receives any discovery material subject to this Order must sign a copy of this Order acknowledging its restrictions.

6. This order does not limit the right of any individual or entity to reproduce or disseminate any document or information obtained from sources other than the discovery materials, even if such document or information is also within the discovery materials.

7. This Order does not limit the right of either party to use the discovery material as part of any court filing or court hearing.

8. At the conclusion of this matter, including any direct appeal, defense counsel shall return to the government all discovery materials provided to the defendant by the government, including all copies provided to individuals for assistance in the preparation of the defense.

9. If counsel for either party believes an exception should be made to this Order, the parties will confer and then seek guidance from this Court as necessary. The parties will advise the Court by letter of any agreed-upon exceptions made to this Order.
